Two women are standing side-by-side, modeling traditional Indian attire. The woman on the left is wearing a purple ensemble with a heavily embroidered bodice and a matching dupatta. The woman on the right is wearing a greyish-blue ensemble with a V-neck bodice, a wide belt, and a dupatta. Both outfits are adorned with intricate embroidery and sequins. They are also wearing traditional jewelry, including large earrings, necklaces, and bangles. The background is a blurred architectural setting with arches.
